Objective of street play -

- To create awareness among people about the bravery and sacrifice of Indian soldiers.
- To spread the message of national unity, patriotism, and security.
- To honor the courage of the armed forces during Operation Sindoor.
- To inspire youth to serve the nation with dedication.
- To make citizens aware of their role in supporting national security.

Outcome of street play:-

- People understood the importance of national safety and unity.
- Students and audience felt respect for the Indian Army.
- The street play encouraged patriotic feelings among citizens.
- Awareness increased about the role of soldiers in protecting the country.
- It motivated young people toward discipline and national service.

Executive Summary-

In a vibrant display of patriotism and civic duty, the NCC cadets of St. Xavier's College organized a Nukkad Natak (Street Play) to mark the first anniversary of Operation Sindoor. The event served as a platform to bridge the gap between military sacrifice and civilian responsibility, emphasizing that national security is a collective endeavor.

Key Attendees-

The event was graced by the college leadership and faculty, including:

- Administration: Principal Father Roshan Ba, Vice Principal Father Bruno Toppo, and Father Sameer Bhawra.
- Academic Leadership: IQAC Coordinator Prof. Reni Lakra.
- Faculty Members: Prof. Nimmi Topno, Prof. Roshan Kishor Gidh, Prof. Archana Shefali, and Prof. Narayan Sai.

Core Themes and Objectives-

The performance was meticulously crafted to highlight three primary pillars:

- Protection of Indian Women: Addressing social safety and the dignity of women as a core component of national health.
- National Unity: Encouraging a cohesive identity that transcends individual differences.
- National Security: Shifting the narrative from "security is the Army's job" to "security is every citizen's duty."

Performance Highlights-

The Nukkad Natak was characterized by high energy and disciplined execution. Key elements included:

- Portrayal of Soldier Life: Cadets depicted the bravery, sacrifice, and rigorous discipline of Indian soldiers, offering the audience a glimpse into the challenges faced on the front lines.
- Civic Responsibility: The "artists" (cadets) delivered a compelling message that patriotism isn't just about border defense but also about social responsibility and awareness in daily life.
- Introduction: Cadet Amisha Dungdung provided a vital prologue, explaining the history and strategic significance of Operation Sindoor to ensure the audience understood the gravity of the anniversary.
